

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to recommend Michelle Cha for admission to your college. Michelle was a student in my General Psychology class at Everett Community College Summer Quarter 2025. Michelle earned an A grade, finishing with the 6th highest score in a rigorous academic class. Even more notably, Michelle's commitment to learning and great attitude set her apart positively. Although Michelle mentioned to me that she found the class challenging, her response to that challenge was to work extra hard and ask clarifying questions to solidify her knowledge. She was a tenacious learner who ensured that she had a strong understanding of course concepts. In addition to individual coursework, the class also involved regular participation in group activities. Michelle worked well with other students on these group activities, demonstrating the kind of valuable interpersonal skills contemporary employers regularly seek. I understand that Michelle hopes to study dental hygiene. I feel confident that Michelle will not only dedicate herself to completing the program but will also be a model student whose future work will reflect positively on any institution she attends.
